Buffalo Sabres Owner

B. Thomas GOLISANO

2003 Ownership established

As Sabres fans celebrate the franchise's 40th anniversary season, they likely still haven't forgotten the memories of 2002-03 when the possibility loomed of the team being sold and relocated. While it seems almost unfathomable now, the bankrupt Sabres of that forgettable season were stumbling along not knowing if they'd even be calling Buffalo home by the end of the season. On the ice, they suffered through an 11-game winless streak in October/November, followed by a six-game losing streak in December. Off the ice, fan support was dwindling and it wasn't uncommon for the team to play in front of a half-full HSBC Arena. The team was a financial mess, and daily reports of their demise were becoming the norm. Buffalo's diehard hockey fans kept wondering if they'd see "next season," let alone a 40th anniversary in 2010-11.

Then, through a meeting brokered by Larry Quinn at a restaurant in downtown Buffalo, Rochester businessman Tom Golisano took the first steps to saving the cash-strapped team and reviving one of the league's most loyal fanbases.

Golisano officially took ownership of the Sabres on March 13, 2003 when he purchased the Sabres for $92 million, putting an end to the tumultuous ownership situation that had plagued the team. Already recognized throughout the business world for developing Paychex into the United States' second-largest payroll-processing company, the Rochester-based billionaire had now taken on the unenviable task of restoring pride to the frustrated hockey fans of Western New York.

Seven years have now passed, and Golisano's Sabres have become one of the NHL's model franchises. On the day Golisano took over, the team was mired in 29th place (just two points out of the 30th) with a record of 21-32-9-7, and hadn't made the playoffs in two years. Since then, the Sabres have compiled a record of 273-175-57 (.597) since March 13, 2003 – the fifth best record in the league during this time. Buffalo came within one win of the Stanley Cup Finals in 2006, and followed that up with a Presidents' Trophy and a return trip to the Conference Finals in 2007. Last season's Northeast Division title was their second in the past four years.

The Sabres have evolved into one of the league's elite franchises, and last season boasted two major individual award winners in Ryan Miller (Vezina Trophy) and Tyler Myers (Calder Trophy). Success hasn't been limited to the NHL level either. The team's AHL affiliate in Portland has been home to the league's last two Rookies of the Year in Nathan Gerbe and Tyler Ennis, both of whom stepped up to contribute during last spring's Stanley Cup Playoffs. All four players were drafted by General Manager Darcy Regier, who is entering his 14th year as General Manager, and is considered to be one the sharpest minds in the game. Golisano recognized Regier's value and commitment to the organization by signing him to a two-year contract extension last September that will keep him in Buffalo through the 2010-11 season.

The exciting product on the ice has also translated into increased attendance. Season ticket sales remain at an all-time high of 14,825, with the team receiving a renewal rate of 98% for this season. This is a drastic increase from the low point of 5,800 they had coming out of the 2004-05 lockout year. Buffalo sold out 30 home dates last season, and have now sold out 136 of 163 home games since the start of the 2006-07 season.

Sabres management continues to retain the young core players that many observers believe will keep the team competitive for years to come. Miller (30) and Pominville (27) are each entering the second year of the five-year contracts they signed in July 2009. They join Vanek (26), who is in the fourth year of his seven-year deal. Vanek has led Buffalo in goals for each of the past four years. Center Derek Roy (25), who is entering the fourth year of a six-year contract, led the team in scoring for the third straight season by posting 69 points last season. Rather than sign players to shorter-term contracts as he had done in the past, Golisano has adjusted his business practice to stay competitive in the NHL's new economic landscape.

This didn't happen by accident. It was the result of careful planning and the infusion of the Golisano entrepreneurial spirit.

Golisano is often fond of challenging the management team of the Sabres with the question, "What are we doing to differentiate ourselves from our 29 competitors?" That single question and Golisano's determination has framed the whole approach and plan of the new Sabres.

Although the Sabres approach may seem counter-intuitive at times, it reflects the Golisano philosophy of differentiation. The Sabres cut prices but increased revenue. Contrary to a popular outcry to fire the coach and general manager, Golisano retained both and extended their tenure. The hockey department reduced the live coverage of its scouting department but doubled the number of reviewed games through video technology. Despite the need for a makeover, the team reduced its focus on trading players and committed to develop drafted players and those already in the system.

Although the team facilities were relatively new, updates and changes were in store. The arena has undergone major renovation; player facilities have been completely overhauled. A philosophy of patient development and accountability was employed, utilizing existing coaching staff and, with a few key additions and subtractions, many of the same players together with the organization's youthful prospects. A particular emphasis was placed on the development of the franchise's minor league prospects by hiring a full-time strength and conditioning coach and goaltending instructor for their AHL team.

Golisano's influence has been felt at the league level as well. Since taking ownership of the Sabres, Golisano has become a strong voice on the NHL's Board of Governors, encouraging rule changes to open up the game and permit league's best players to showcase their world-class skills. Golisano was also behind a couple of experiments designed to make the game more fan and media friendly. During the 2004-05 lockout, HSBC Arena played host to a pair of Rochester Amerks game using blue ice to see if this would allow the ice to show up better on television while making it easier to see the flow of the puck. The Sabres also designed enlarged bowed nets to facilitate scoring in a league that had seen goal scoring decrease significantly in previous years.

Before hockey, Golisano founded Paychex, Inc., a leading national provider of payroll, human resource and benefits solutions for small- and medium-sized businesses. Golisano started Paychex in 1971 at the age of 30, with the intention of primarily serving small businesses. What started as a single operation expanded through franchise agreements and joint ventures until Paychex consolidated into one private company in 1979. By 1983, when Paychex became a public company, the potential of the small-business market had been proven, and Paychex had been named to the INC. magazine list of "The Fastest Growing, Privately Held Companies in the U.S." Since then, Paychex has regularly enjoyed double-digit growth.

Since then, Golisano's philanthropic contributions have totaled more than $145 million, some of which have directly affected Western New Yorkers. In October 2008, Golisano committed $10 million to Niagara University to support construction of a new science building, the B. Thomas Golisano Center for Integrated Sciences, which will radically alter the teaching and research environment at the university. It is the largest gift the institution has received in its 152-year history. Construction is expected to be completed by the fall of 2011. This marks the first major gift Golisano has made in Western New York outside of the Rochester region. In August 2005, Golisano pledged $100,000 towards the opening of the Lion's Den room at Women & Children's Hospital in Buffalo. Only the second of its kind in the country, the room is designed as a place for children to find relief from the stress of having a serious illness or injury while they are in the hospital. Golisano and former Sabres captain Pat LaFontaine were significant donors to the $300,000 project, with some of the money coming from the 2004 Companions in Courage celebrity hockey game held at HSBC Arena. In September 2007, Golisano donated $10 million to Rochester Institute of Technology (RIT) to create the Golisano Institute for Sustainability. The Institute, one of the first of its kind in the nation, focuses on research and education in sustainable design, pollution prevention, remanufacturing and alternative energy development. Establishment of The Golisano Institute for Sustainability is consistent with Mr. Golisano's ongoing support of the William J. Clinton Foundation. Golisano is a sponsor of the Clinton Global Initiative.

Golisano's purchase of the team also helped to revive the Sabres Foundation, a non-profit foundation that is committed to enhancing the quality of life for the Western New York region. After stagnating for several years, the Foundation is now very active in the community and has raised more than $2.5 million since the start of the 2005-06 season. The Sabres Foundation has recently donated to several local organizations including: $100,000 was donated to Summit Educational Resources, a school that provides educational and therapeutic services to children with learning, communication and behavioral challenges; the Family Justice Center of Erie County received a donation of $50,000 to support their mission of developing and sustaining a collaboration which delivers services that enable people to live safely, free from domestic violence, and that advocates offender accountability.

Golisano is also a strong advocate of the need to seek political reform. To that end he became a founding member of the Independence Party of New York State. As a candidate of that party, he ran for governor of New York in 1994, 1998 and 2002. In July 2008, Golisano established Responsible New York, which is organized around a core set of values, beliefs and principles that are essential to guiding true political reform in the State of New York. Its quest is to create a political movement to return Albany to its rightful owners. Its pledge is to help create an organization with no personal agendas, other than to give a voice to all New Yorkers - Democrats, Republicans, Conservatives and Independents from cities, suburbs and rural areas both upstate and downstate.

A native of Irondequoit, NY, a suburb of Rochester, he is a graduate of the State University of New York at Alfred.

Buffalo Sabres Ownership

Lawrence QUINN

2003 Managing Partner and Minority Owner

Born and raised in the City of Buffalo, Lawrence Quinn begins his eighth year as the team's Managing Partner – and third as a Minority Owner – with the same goal as when he started: to bring a Stanley Cup championship to his hometown.

Quinn's passion for the city is also reflected in his role as Vice Chairman of the Erie Canal Harbor Development Corporation, a commission responsible for developing the Buffalo waterfront into a mixed-use retail and residential destination that showcases the city's historical connection to the Erie Canal Waterway.

Described by New York State Gubernatorial candidate Carl Paladino as an "apolitical doer," it was Quinn who served as the catalyst by working directly with USA Hockey to help the Sabres and HSBC Arena be selected as the hosts for this year's IIHF World Junior Championship, an event which is expected to have an economic impact of more than $100 million for Buffalo and the surrounding region. That would make it the largest convention, special event or amateur sporting event ever to be held in the region. The 10-nation tournament includes 31 games over the course of 10 days beginning December 26, and features the world's best players under 20 years of age. Dwyer Arena on the Niagara University campus will serve as a secondary location for the tournament. It is estimated that more than 100,000 people will attend the tournament during its 10-day run, in addition to the millions of TV viewers that will tune in across North America on TSN and the NHL Network.

Serving as Mr. Golisano's direct contact within the organization, Quinn's primary duty is to oversee the direction of the franchise that won the Presidents' Trophy in 2006-07, and has qualified for the Stanley Cup playoffs in three of the past five seasons. The Sabres are also one of just six teams that have made two trips to the Conference Finals since the start of the 2005-06 season. During Quinn's past and current reign in management the Sabres have a combined record of 343-226-84 (.630), including three Northeast Division titles and a Presidents' Trophy in 2006-07.

Quinn serves as an alternate governor on the NHL's Board of Governors and is considered one of the league's most progressive executives. Quinn was also recently named to the NHL Board of Governors/USA Hockey Partnership Committee. In December 2008, The Hockey News recognized Quinn in the Future Power section of their "100 People of Power" issue. "Quinn is one of the more forward-thinking of the NHL's front office guys," wrote Hockey News columnist Eric Duhatschek. "Even if not everybody is always listening, it helps to have an idea-first guy, sitting in the boardroom, thinking outside the box."

Quinn previously played a key role in Sabres history when he was appointed President and CEO of the team in 1996. With Quinn at the helm during this time, the Sabres captured the 1996-97 Northeast Division title and posted a combined regular season record of 70-51-27. Quinn left the franchise when the Rigas family of the now defunct Adelphia Communications Company assumed control of the team. Prior to this, he was he was recruited in 1992 by the late Seymour H. Knox III to spearhead the development of the HSBC Arena. Quinn was the vision and driving force behind the project that was completed for the 1996-97 season, on time and under budget for $127 million.

During the seven years since Quinn resumed his management role with the Sabres, the organization's season ticket base has increased from 6,000, to a cap of 14,825 for the 2010-11 season -- including a 98% season ticket renewal rate. The Sabres also added 400 new members to their Blue & Gold Club this year, a priority waiting list for season tickets that now stands at 1,600 members.

Quinn is well known throughout Western New York for his active role in various private and public development projects. In August 2005, Governor George Pataki appointed Quinn as Vice Chairman of a New York state commission to plan and oversee the development of the entire Buffalo waterfront. Named the Erie Canal Harbor Development Corporation, the commission is responsible for developing the waterfront area immediately surrounding HSBC Arena and planning the ultimate development of the outer harbor and old port area.

Included among the group's immediate projects are the restoration of the Erie Canal terminus and the redevelopment of the old Memorial Auditorium site. This is part of an overall plan called Canal Side, a $315 million development plan to revitalize downtown by capitalizing on the historic inner harbor, creating a marketplace and public plaza as well as restaurants, a hotel, residential units, and office space. The entire plan includes 1.1 million square-feet of commercial, cultural and residential space to be developed over an estimated 20-year period.

July 2008 marked the completion of the nine-year, $53 million Erie Canal Harbor Redevelopment Project. Details of the project include the redevelopment of approximately 12.5 acres of prime waterfront property, as well as the restoration of the historically significant public space and maritime attraction.

Quinn was instrumental in bringing the Winter Classic to Western New York on January 1, 2008. The outdoor New Year's Day game between the Sabres and Penguins drew an NHL-record 71,217 fans to Ralph Wilson Stadium in Orchard Park, NY, with 41,100 tickets sold in less than 30 minutes when they went on sale to the public. In addition, NBC's television ratings were the highest for an NHL game in 11 years.

In May 2009, the Winter Classic was honored as the 2008 Sports Event of the Year by the SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily. As reported by the Sports Business Journal, "In a bold move, the NHL stole the limelight away from college football on New Year's Day. A record crowd witnessed the historic Winter Classic, which established a blueprint for the future."

In March 2007, the Sabres were recognized by ESPN the Magazine as the number one sports franchise among the 122 North American professional sports teams when it comes to paying fans back for their investment of time, money and passion.

Following his graduation from the University of Notre Dame in 1974, Quinn was appointed the City's Director of Development where he oversaw the planning and development of the original waterfront village at the Erie Basin Marina as well as the initial development of the City's Theater District. Several years later at age 28, Mayor James D. Griffin appointed Quinn as Commissioner of Development -- the youngest person ever to serve as a Commissioner in the City's history.

Quinn left Buffalo in 1982 and worked as a developer in Manhattan and Princeton, N.J., for 10 years before returning home to work on the HSBC Arena project in 1992.

During the NHL lockout, Quinn led the effort to build a new research home for Nobel Laureate Herbert Hauptman in the heart of the Buffalo Niagara Medical Campus. The Hauptman Woodward Institute Medical Research Center is now a highly acclaimed work of architecture and the home to one of the finest structural biology research centers in the world.

Buffalo Sabres Ownership

Daniel J. DiPOFI

2003 Chief Executive Officer and Minority Owner

The 2010-11 NHL season is Dan DiPofi's eighth year as Chief Operating Officer of the Buffalo Sabres/Buffalo Bandits and HSBC Arena, and third as a Minority Owner. Under his guidance, Buffalo's success both on and off the ice over the past five seasons has been the catalyst in bringing financial stability to an organization that is just seven years removed from bankruptcy.

DiPofi's focus remains on business operations of the NHL team and its 18,690-seat arena. One of DiPofi's ongoing projects is making sure the Sabres continue to thrive under the economic landscape of the NHL's Collective Bargaining Agreement that came into effect in July 2005.

In addition to the Sabres, DiPofi works closely with the Buffalo Bandits of the National Lacrosse League, serving as a Governor on the NLL's Board of Governors. The Bandits have become the league's model franchise both on and off the floor, qualifying for the playoffs in eight consecutive seasons and playing before near-sellout crowds at a raucous HSBC Arena every night.

After previously serving in several financial capacities with the franchise under the Knox family, DiPofi returned to the Sabres after serving for two years as the Vice President of Business Operations & Finance with the Rochester Sports Group handling the Rochester Americans and the Blue Cross Arena. He also served as the Amerks Alternate Governor to the AHL.

DiPofi graduated from Niagara University in 1984, and subsequently worked as a Public Accountant with Price Waterhouse until being hired by the Sabres as Corporate Controller four years later. After guiding the organization through drastic changes in the NHL's economic structure in the early 1990's, DiPofi was promoted to Vice President of Finance in 1992 and two years later was named Executive Vice President overseeing the long-term financial structure of the franchise. With his extensive financial background, DiPofi played a vital role in the franchise's economic stability as the team and region tackled the construction and funding of the Crossroads Arena project (now HSBC Arena). He left the team in 1998 after the Knox family sold the franchise.

Sabres Hockey Department

Darcy REGIER

1996 General Manger

Darcy Regier is embarking on his 14th year as General Manager of the Buffalo Sabres, the longest tenure of any GM in the 39-year history of the franchise. Regier's 13th campaign as GM saw the Sabres capture the 2009-10 Northeast Division title with a record of 45-27-10. It was the team's second division title in the past four seasons. The Sabres have posted a regular season record of 483-361-140 under Regier's guidance, while also advancing to the Stanley Cup Finals in 1999 and making four Eastern Conference Finals appearances (1998, 1999, 2006 and 2007). Regier and head coach Lindy Ruff form the longest-serving GM/Coach combination in pro sports, and have had more success than any tandem in franchise history.

Regier and his scouting staff have had tremendous prosperity at the NHL Entry Draft in recent years, and last season was proof positive of their hard work. Of the 29 players who took to the ice for Buffalo in 2009-10, 18 were acquired through the Entry Draft and had spent some time with the team's AHL affiliate. This included Derek Roy, Jason Pominville, Thomas Vanek and 2010 Calder Trophy winner Tyler Myers -- four of Buffalo's top five scorers. Vanek was selected fifth overall in 2003, while Roy (32nd) and Pominville (55th) were drafted in the 2nd round of the 2001 Draft. All three are locked up to long-term contracts – with Pominville being the elderstatesman of the group at just 27. In addition, Vezina Trophy winner and 2010 Winter Olympic MVP Ryan Miller is entering the second season of a five-year contract that will keep him in the blue and gold through the 2013-14 season.

Buffalo's roster also includes several other players who were drafted in the first or second round since Regier's first draft in 1997, including: Myers (1st, 2008), 2010 AHL Rookie of the Year Tyler Ennis (1st, 2008) and Drew Stafford (1st, 2004). And with the offseason signing of 2010 QMJHL MVP runner-up Luke Adam (2nd, 2008), the Sabres have now inked their first three selections from the 2008 Entry Draft.

Regier's staff has also done a solid job in the later rounds, with veterans like Miller (5th, 1999) and Paul Gaustad (7th, 2000), to youngsters such as 2009 AHL Rookie of the Year Nathan Gerbe (5th, 2005) and Chris Butler (4th, 2005) who have already made an impact in the organization.

The hockey department's success hasn't been limited to their hard work on draft day. Several trades and free agent signings have landed Buffalo some of their most valuable contributors. This summer saw Regier shore up the Sabres blueline with the signings of offensive stalwart Jordan Leopold and rugged Shaone Morrisonn. In July 2008, Craig Rivet was acquired from San Jose and was named team captain just months later. Defenseman Steve Montador is entering the second year of his free agent contract signed in July 2009, and veteran winger Mike Grier recently re-signed with the Sabres after returning to the organization in August 2009.

Prior to joining the Sabres, Regier served in roles with the Islanders as: Director of Hockey Administration, Assistant Coach, and Assistant General Manager. While on Long Island, he supervised the club's amateur development, and saw their International Hockey League affiliate win back-to-back championships (Denver Grizzlies in 1994-95 and then, after moving to Salt Lake City, the Utah Grizzlies in 1995-96). Legendary Islanders' coach Al Arbour, along with Bill Torrey, who served in roles as General Manager, President, Chairman of the Board, and Consultant with New York, were significant contributors to Regier's career in hockey. Regier left the Islanders organization briefly in the 1991-92 season to serve as an assistant coach with the Hartford Whalers.

Born in Swift Current, Saskatchewan, Regier was the fifth choice (77th overall) of the California Golden Seals in the 1976 Amateur Draft. He appeared in 26 NHL games over the course of three seasons with the Cleveland Barons and the New York Islanders, totaling two assists and 35 PIM. Regier played parts of eight seasons of professional hockey and was a member of three championship teams. In 1982, he was named a First Team All-Star with Indianapolis (IHL), where he learned from one of the people he considers an influence on his hockey life, current Detroit Red Wings Senior Vice President Jim Devellano, then the team's GM.

During his playing career, Regier was also involved in the early setup of the Professional Hockey Players' Association.

Darcy and his wife, Katherine, reside in Clarence and have three sons: Jonathan, Justin, and Jarrett.

Lindy RUFF

1997 Head Coach

The 2010-11 season will be Lindy Ruff's 13th consecutive season behind the Buffalo bench, tying him with Toe Blake (Montreal), Al Arbour (NY Islanders) and Lester Patrick (NY Rangers) for fourth all-time in consecutive seasons coaching one club. Ruff also needs 17 wins to become the 16th coach in NHL history to reach 500 and 16 games to reach 1,000. Ruff was hired on July 21, 1997, making him the NHL's longest tenured head coach. Entering this season there have been 155 NHL coaching changes during Ruff's time in Buffalo. Ruff led the Sabres to a 45-27-10 record last season, guiding them to their second Northeast Division title in the past four seasons. The 49-year-old Ruff was also a member of the coaching staff for the Canadian men's hockey team that took home a gold medal at the 2010 Winter Olympics in Vancouver.

Ruff has compiled a career record of 483-361-140, with his 483 wins tops among all NHL coaches with their current team. Ruff passed Glen Sather on January 6, 2010 to take sole possession of 4th spot in NHL history for Most Career Wins with One Franchise. He also finished the season ranked 17th all-time in NHL career wins, after passing both Brian Sutter (451) and Roger Neilson (460) during the year.

On March 5, he moved into 3rd place all-time for Most Games Coached with One Franchise, passing Jack Adams. Ruff will enter the 2010-11 season just 17 wins behind the legendary Toe Blake for 3rd place all-time with 500 wins.

Ruff, the all-time winningest coach in Sabres' history, has a .574 playoff winning percentage and is the Sabres' all-time leader in playoff games coached (94) and wins (54). His 54 career playoff wins also place him 14th place on the all-time list. Among coaches with 40 or more playoff wins, Ruff is in the top five in terms of career winning percentage.

During the 2006-07, the Sabres' had their finest year under Ruff statistically when the team won a franchise-record 53 games and captured the first Presidents' Trophy in club history, while leading both the Northeast Division and Eastern Conference from wire-to-wire. This was also the first time in franchise history they've posted back-to-back 50-win seasons. Buffalo returned to the Eastern Conference Finals for the second consecutive season, and the fourth time under Ruff's guidance. On April 5, 2007, a 5-4 Buffalo victory over Ottawa made him the 31st coach in NHL history to record 300 career wins, and the 16th in NHL history to reach the milestone with the same team.

Ruff was named to the 2007 NHL All-Star Game for the second time in his career as Head Coach of the Eastern Conference squad, and was runner-up to Vancouver's Alain Vigneault for the Jack Adams Trophy as the NHL's Coach of the Year. Ruff also coached the World team the 1999 All-Star Game in Tampa Bay. He joining Bowman and Floyd Smith as the only Buffalo coaches to be named as head coach of an All-Star Team.

Ruff led the surprising Sabres to the Eastern Conference Finals in 2005-06, where the team lost on the road in Game 7 against the Carolina Hurricanes. For these accomplishments, Ruff was honored by the NHL with the Jack Adams Award as the league's Coach of the Year. Ruff joins Ted Nolan (1997) as the only other head coach in team history to receive this honor.

In only his second season as head coach, Ruff led the 1998-99 Sabres to their first Stanley Cup Finals appearance in 24 years and established himself as one of the league's top coaches. He also achieved a club record that season for the most wins (14) in one playoff year. In the process, Ruff became only the third head coach under the present Stanley Cup Playoff format to lead his team to the Conference Finals in each of his first two seasons.

Buffalo's 1-1 tie vs. N.Y. Islanders on April 3, 2002, was Ruff's 405th game behind the bench, passing Scotty Bowman on the Sabres' all-time games coached list. In his 500th game as the Sabres' head coach, Buffalo picked up a 5-2 win over Anaheim (Oct. 26, 2003). He recorded his first win as Sabres head coach with a 3-1 decision at St. Louis on Oct. 1, 1997.

Ruff achieved playoff success that first year which none of his predecessors had ever experienced. The 1997-98 squad set a team record by winning eight-straight playoff games and tied the club mark with 10 playoff wins. The conference finals appearance was the teams' first since 1980, which ironically was Ruff's rookie year with Buffalo.

Ruff was the Sabres' second-round (32nd overall) draft pick in 1979 following a distinguished career as a defenseman with Lethbridge (WHL). He made the team at his first training camp and playing in 63 games during the 1979-80 season and was named the team's rookie of the year. Ruff ranks sixth all-time on the Sabres' regular season list in penalty minutes (1,126) and is tied for 11th in games played (608). In 691 career games, he recorded 105 goals and 195 assists to go with 1,264 penalty minutes.

In his 1981-82, Ruff was converted to play left wing after having been a defenseman throughout his junior career and first two professional seasons. In November 1986, he received perhaps his greatest individual honor as a Sabre when he was named to replace Gilbert Perreault as team captain after the legend's retirement.

Ruff ended his playing career after serving as a player/assistant coach for the 1992-93 season with the San Diego Gulls of the IHL. Head Coach Roger Nielson (who coached Ruff in Buffalo and with the Rangers) tabbed Ruff as one of his assistants for the expansion Florida Panthers for the 1993-94 campaign. As the primary coach of the penalty-killing unit and defensemen, Ruff received many accolades for his work. In just their third season, the over-achieving and hard-working Panthers squad advanced to the 1996 Stanley Cup Finals.

Brian McCUTCHEON

2000 Associate Coach

Brian McCutcheon enters his 11th year with Buffalo, and fifth in the role of Associate Coach. McCutcheon joined the Sabres in 2000 after three successful years as head coach of the Rochester Americans where he led the team to a pair of Calder Cup Final appearances.

McCutcheon ended his Rochester tenure with a record of 128-82-9 and saw his Amerk teams reach the playoffs each season. Under his guidance, the Amerks won back-to-back Western Conference titles and set franchise records for most points (111) and wins (52) during the 1998-99 season. McCutcheon was recognized by his peers for the job he did with the Amerks by being tabbed as runner-up for AHL Coach-of-the-Year in 1999 and 2000.

Prior to joining the Amerks, McCutcheon served as the Head Coach and Director of Player Personnel for the Columbus Chill of the East Coast Hockey League. In his only season with the Chill, he was named the ECHL Coach of the Year after leading them to a 44-21-5 mark, which set franchise records for most wins and most points in a season while winning the North Division title.

Before moving to the pro ranks, McCutcheon was the head coach at his alma mater, Cornell, from 1987 to 1995 and led the Big Red to a 108-105-24 record. As a player, he was a member of the 1970 National Championship team at Cornell; the only team in NCAA history to have an undefeated season at 29-0. McCutcheon was named captain of the 1971 team and was selected to the All-East and All-Ivy teams during his collegiate career. He was inducted into the Cornell University Sports Hall of Fame in 1986.

Prior to coaching at Cornell, McCutcheon coached Elmira College for seven seasons, the last six as the Head Coach. He posted a 103-60-1 record and was named the 1986 New York State Coach of the Year after guiding Elmira to a number one ranking in NCAA Division III.

During a three-year NHL career with the Detroit Red Wings, McCutcheon appeared in 37 games, recording three goals, one assist and seven penalty minutes.

A Toronto native, he and his wife Susan have two children: Kelly, and Mark, a fifth-round selection of the Colorado Avalanche in the 2003 NHL Entry Draft. Last year, Mark completed his third professional season, which included stints with Portland and Manitoba in the AHL.

James PATRICK

2006 Assistant Coach

James Patrick enters his fifth season behind the Sabres bench as an assistant coach. Following a brief stint as Buffalo's skill development coach early in 2005-06, Patrick spent the remainder of that season finishing his playing career in Germany for the Frankfurt Lions.

Patrick was a first-round selection (ninth overall) of the New York Rangers in the 1981 NHL Entry Draft. Over his 21-year career with the Rangers, Hartford Whalers, Calgary Flames and Sabres, the 47-year-old native of Winnipeg, Man., scored 639 points (149+490) in 1280 regular season games. Prior to his retirement, Patrick was ranked ninth among active players in games played, and was one of three remaining active players from the first-round of the 1981 Draft. Patrick posted seven consecutive seasons (1985-92) of 40 or more points with the NY Rangers, including a career-high of 71 (14+57) in 1991-92. The 71 points and 57 assists were career-bests for Patrick. He scored a career-high 17 goals in 1987-88.

Patrick played six seasons in Buffalo after signing as an unrestricted free agent on June 7, 1998. He scored 74 points (23+51) in 345 regular season games, and added 5 points (1+4) in 38 playoff games. Patrick's career plus/minus total of +104 reflects his steady defensive play. He finished as a minus in just one of six seasons in Buffalo, and in just six of his 21 seasons.

Patrick is also a veteran of international competition, having won championships for Team Canada at the 1982 World Junior Championships and 1987 Canada Cup tournaments, and bronze with the 1983 World Junior team. He also represented Canada in the 1984 Winter Olympics, and the 1983, 1987, 1998 and 2002 World Championships. Patrick and his wife Deborah, have two daughters: Brennan (18) and Quinn (15)

Jim CORSI

1997 Goaltending Coach

Jim Corsi enters his 13th year as the Sabres goaltending coach. His duties with the team involve working with the Sabres NHL netminders as well as the team's prospects throughout the minor leagues. Under his tutelage, many goaltenders including current Sabres goaltender Ryan Miller have benefited tremendously from Corsi's unique style both on and off the ice.

Corsi brings with him over 20 years of experience as a player, coach, manager and hockey analyst. Besides his NHL duties with the Sabres, Corsi also currently works with the Italian National Team program. Previously, he held the position of Goaltending Coach with the Canadian Women's Team (1997-98), Ottawa University (CIAU) (1997-98), Schwenningen HC (Ger/DEL) (1997-98), St. Michael's Majors (OHL) (1994-97), McGill University (CIAU) (1992) and Concordia University (CIAU) (1992-present). Corsi is a member of the Concordia University Athletic Hall of Fame in hockey and soccer.

As a professional player in North America, Corsi played with the Edmonton Oilers and the Minnesota North Stars, as well as the Quebec Nordiques of the WHA. Corsi continued his career overseas, playing international hockey in Europe, Russia, and China from 1980-92. During that time, he was a member of the Italian National Team at the 1984 Winter Olympic Games, and represented Italy several times in the World Ice Hockey Championships.

Kevyn ADAMS

2009 Player Development Coach

Kevyn Adams begins his second season with the organization as Player Development Coach. Adams duties include working with players on their individual skills through on-ice drills and off-ice video sessions.

Prior to joining the Sabres, Adams completed a 14-year professional hockey career. In 540 career NHL games, Adams collected 136 points on 59 goals and 77 assists. The Western New York native spent time with six clubs including the Toronto Maple Leafs, Columbus Blue Jackets, Florida Panthers, Carolina Hurricanes, Phoenix Coyotes and Chicago Blackhawks. During the 2005-06 season, Adams set a career-high in goals (15) and was named an assistant captain while playing a key role in leading the Hurricanes to their first Stanley Cup.

Adams was the selected in the First Round (25th overall) by the Boston Bruins in the 1993 NHL Entry Draft.

Doug McKENNEY

1994 Strength and Conditioning Coach

Doug McKenney begins his 17th year with the Sabres' coaching staff. His duties with the team include working on strength and conditioning programs with the NHL club, the AHL affiliate Portland Pirates, Sabres draft choices, as well as on potential draftees. He also works with physical therapists and team doctors on the rehabilitation of all injured players.

McKenney was named the team's first-ever Strength and Conditioning Coach in July 1995 and has been steadily improving the team's performance levels ever since.

McKenney places a special emphasis on teaching players nutrition to maintain conditioning throughout the season and make strength gains in the offseason. McKenney has also introduced a cutting edge training system to all players within the organization to properly monitor all aspects of their on and off-ice workouts. The program utilizes heart rate monitors and computer software to analyze each player's workout results. Those results, along with comparisons of calorie loss and replenishment allow players to reach optimum training results and not over train, leading to potential injuries and missed time from the ice.

Before the players leave for the offseason, McKenney, in conjunction with the hockey department, devises a conditioning DVD tailored to each player's individual needs and can track their workouts via the internet. For those players who remain in Buffalo, McKenney supervises their off-season conditioning and skating programs.

McKenney joined the Sabres after serving as the Hartford Whalers strength and conditioning coach for six years. He served in the same capacity for the Pittsburgh Penguins the four years prior.

A 1981 graduate of Springfield College, McKenney taught two years of physical education at Dover High School in New Hampshire where he served on the coaching staff of the school's football team and was elected into the Dover Sports Hall of Fame in September of 2002. He subsequently obtained his master's degree in exercise physiology at Mississippi State University.

Kevin DEVINE

1997 Director of Amateur Scouting

Kevin Devine begins his 13th year with the Buffalo Sabres, and his fifth as Director of Amateur Scouting. In this role, he oversees the organization's seven-member amateur scouting staff and is instrumental in making Buffalo's NHL Entry Draft selections.

Prior to becoming the director of amateur scouting, Devine spent six years as a professional scout in the Sabres organization and two as an assistant amateur scout. Before joining the Sabres, he spent three years coaching the Prince Edward Island Senators of the AHL. He also coached in the UHL, with stints in Port Huron and Thunder Bay.

Devine enjoyed an 11-year professional playing career. He spent five years in the WHA, including three with the San Diego Mariners and two with the Indianapolis Racers. He went on to spend six seasons in the New York Islanders organization, where he was a reserve on the organization's first Stanley Cup Championship team.

Jon CHRISTIANO

1997 Director of Pro Scouting

Jon Christiano is entering his 13th season with the Sabres organization and begins his third season as Director of Pro Scouting. It will also be his seventh season with the scouting department. Prior to his role in the department, Christiano spent five seasons as an Assistant Coach with the Rochester Americans of the American Hockey League. During his tenure there, the Americans earned five playoff berths and two appearances in the Calder Cup Finals.

Before joining the Sabres, Christiano spent four years in the Florida Panthers organization. In Florida, he worked two years on the coaching staff with the late Roger Neilson, as well as current Sabres head coach Lindy Ruff. Christiano also worked two years as an assistant coach with the Panthers AHL affiliate, the Greensboro Monarchs. Christiano also spent time with Neilson as the Video Coordinator for the New York Rangers. He has worked with eight present or past NHL coaches over the course of his career.

From 1981-1991, Christiano coached in Italy, where he worked for a number of different roles. More recently, he has been involved with the Italian National Teams an assistant coach in four different World Championships from 2004-2008.

A native of Buffalo, NY Christiano graduated from Canisius College in 1980, where he played in their hockey program. He and his wife Linda currently reside in Grand Island, NY with their three children, Christiana, Natalia (13) and Joseph (7).

Scott SCHRANZ 1997 Director of Amateur Scouting Operations

Scott Schranz enters his 13th season in the Sabres organization, and his third as the Director of Scouting Operations. Schranz has a variety of responsibilities within the scouting department, including scheduling, overseeing the scouting budget, and managing the Sabres' Performance Analysis team

Schranz has held numerous positions throughout his tenure with the Sabres. After spending four years as an intern, he spent two years in the public relations department and has been in the hockey department for the past six years. He was instrumental in developing the Sabres' video scouting system, and still oversees the technical aspects of it.

Scott currently resides in Hamburg, NY.

Mark JAKUBOWSKI 2005 Assistant to the General Manager

Mark Jakubowski begins his sixth year with the Sabres and third as the Assistant to the General Manager. His responsibilities include statistical and salary cap analysis, contract research relating to player negotiations and arbitrations, managing player transfers, team roster administration, and all matters relating to compliance with the NHL Collective Bargaining Agreement and other NHL agreements. Jakubowski also assists with the American Hockey League hockey operations of the team's minor league affiliate, the Portland Pirates.

Jakubowski graduated with an economics degree from the University of Rochester, where he also played baseball. He resides in Hamburg, NY.

Corey SMITH 2005 Administrative Assistant Coach

Corey Smith returns to the organization for his sixth season as Administrative Assistant Coach. As the team's Administrative Assistant Coach, he is responsible for all of the video editing and analysis of games, as well as pre-scouting each opponent. Smith is also involved in various other hockey department issues, including organizing travel schedules and statistical analysis.

Smith, a graduate of SUNY Cortland joined the Sabres in January 2005 as a Hockey Video Analyst in the team's hockey department. Smith was promoted to his new position in January 2006. The Buffalo, NY native is the son of former Sabres' forward Derek Smith.

Tim MACRE 2005 Athletic Trainer

Tim Macre enters his sixth season with the Sabres after spending the previous nine years in the New York Rangers organization. Macre was the Head Athletic Trainer for the Hartford Wolf*Pack and the Binghamton Rangers in the American Hockey League. Among the highlights in his tenure with the Wolf*Pack was the 2000 Calder Cup championship and the 2001 AHL All-Star Classic in Wilkes-Barre/Scranton. A 1994 graduate of Bowling Green State University, Macre also spent time teaching at Monroe Community College in Rochester, NY. In addition to his Athletic Training certification, Tim is also a certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist.

Rip SIMONICK 1970 Equipment Manager

Robert "Rip" Simonick is entering his 40th season with the organization as Buffalo's Equipment Manager. Simonick, the longest tenured equipment manager in the National Hockey League continues to assist with player equipment needs and requests at home as well, as well as on the road.

Simonick's roots in professional hockey begin before the Sabres ever dropped their first puck. Simonick began as a stick boy with the Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League in 1964. After the team captured their 1969 Calder Cup in the last year of their existence, Simonick was hired by then newly appointed Sabres General Manager Punch Imlach to join the new team's equipment staff. On January 15, 2009, Simonick worked his 3,000th NHL game when the team played the Dallas Stars. Rip has also worked three NHL All-Star games (1974, 1989 and 2005). Among his favorite moments are the 1975 and 1999 Stanley Cup Finals among his favorite moments. Rip and his wife Mary Ann reside in Buffalo, NY.

Dave WILLIAMS 2005 Equipment Manager

David Williams returns for his sixth season with the Sabres as an Equipment Manager. Among his many duties, Williams is responsible for the purchase and inventory of all team equipment and uniforms, as well as equipment needs during each game and skate sharpening.

Williams graduated from Plattsburgh State, where he was a Student Manager with the university's hockey team from from 1992-1995. After graduation, Williams became the Head Equipment Manager for the Knoxville Cherokees/Pee Dee Pride in the East Coast Hockey League. Before joining the Sabres, Williams was the Head Equipment Manager for the Rochester Americans in the American Hockey League from 1998-2005.

George BABCOCK 1992 Assistant Equipment Manager

George Babcock is entering his 18th season with the Sabres training staff. As the assistant equipment manager his duties include handling equipment issues and repairs, arranging transportation for the visiting teams, locker room setup and the day-to-day supplies needed by the team at both HSBC Arena and the Amherst Pepsi Center. Before joining the Sabres, Babcock assisted the team at their practice facility Sabreland. Babcock is a graduate of Starpoint High School. He resides in Williamsville, NY.

Chuck GARLOW 2003 Massage Therapist

Chuck Garlow enters his ninth season as the team's massage therapist. Prior to joining the Sabres training staff, Garlow spent five seasons with the Buffalo Blizzard in the same capacity. In 1995, he earned his New York State license from NYIM and gained his national certification upon graduation. He also has a BA from SUNY at Fredonia. Garlow has his own practice in Lewiston, NY. He is a native of Ransomville, NY.

Michael GILBERT 1997 Director of Public Relations

Michael Gilbert begins his 14th season with the Sabres organization, serving as the Director of Public Relations. Gilbert oversees the Public Relations Department for the Sabres, as well as for the Buffalo Bandits (NLL) and the community relations, youth hockey and fan development for the organizations. Prior to joining the Sabres, Gilbert was the Director of Public Relations for the New Jersey Devils from 1995-1997. He was part of a staff in New Jersey that earned the Professional Hockey Writers' Association's Dick Dillman Award for excellence in public relations for the 1996-97 season. Gilbert's success followed him to the Sabres where the Communications Department was acknowledged with the Dillman Award in 1997-98. Before his move to the NHL, Gilbert was the Assistant Director of Public Relations for the NFL's Philadelphia Eagles for four years (1991-95), assisting with the day-to-day operations of that team's PR department. His football background also includes stints as Assistant Director of Public Relations for the Raleigh-Durham Skyhawks of the WLAF (1990) and as a graduate assistant with the Buffalo Bills (1988-90). The move to the Sabres represented a homecoming for Gilbert, who grew up in the Buffalo suburb of Tonawanda. He graduated from Canisius College in Buffalo with degrees in communications and history. He and his wife Amy reside in Amherst, N.Y., with their sons, Mark (11) and Jack (9), and daughter, Grace (7).

Kevin SNOW 2005 Manager of Publications and Hockey Information

Kevin Snow is now in his sixth season with the Sabres after joining the team in August 2005. He is the editor of the team's media guide and yearbook; prepares the game notes for each game; writes press releases, coordinates media credentials, manages the press box on game nights, and serves as the team's primary liaison with the NHL Off-Ice Officials crew. Prior to the 2009-10 season he led a group that redesigned the NHL's Game Notes process and format. Before joining the Sabres he was a Communications Coordinator for WNED-TV in Buffalo (2002-04), and a Sports Reporter with the Associated Press (2002). Before relocating to Buffalo in 2000, he worked at TV Guide Canada in Toronto where he was the Sports Columnist (1994-98) and Sports Editor (1998-2000). Snow is an avid sports fan, and USA Hockey certified coach with the Buffalo Bison Hockey organization. Born in Calgary, Alta., and raised in Mississauga, Ont., Snow is a 1991 honors graduate of the Print Journalism program at Sheridan College (Oakville, Ont.), and also attended the University of Windsor (Ont.). He and his wife Christine live in Buffalo's Elmwood Village neighborhood with their daughter, Alexandra (8).

Chris BANDURA 2005 Coordinator of Media Relations

Chris Bandura enters his fourth season as the Sabres Coordinator of Media Relations. As the primary contact between the team and the media at home and on the road, he is responsible for arranging interviews, coordinating press conferences and assisting in game-day operations. Before joining the Sabres, Bandura spent two years as the Media Relations Coordinator for the Rochester Sports Group, which includes the Rochester Americans hockey team (AHL), Rochester Raging Rhinos soccer team (USL First Division), Rochester Knighthawks (NLL) and Rochester Rattlers (MLL). Prior to his stint in Rochester, Bandura was the Vice President of Operations for the Columbus Landsharks of the National Lacrosse League (2001-03). He is also spent time in the NLL Front Office as the Director of Media Relations (1999-2000). A 1999 graduate of Utica College of Syracuse University, Bandura was born and raised in Cheektowaga, NY. He and his wife, Kimberly, reside in West Seneca, NY, with their daughter Rosalie (4) and son Charlie (9 months).

RETIRED NUMBERS

The Buffalo Sabres have retired only six numbers since the franchise's inception in 1970. The first Sabre to have his number retired was Gilbert Perreault (#11) on Oct. 17, 1990. The combination of center Perreault, left wing Rick Martin and right wing Rene Robert was one of the greatest lines in hockey history and without a doubt the best in Buffalo Sabres' history. The three wore the blue and gold together from 1972 to 1979 and were labeled "The French Connection," a name whose familiarity was helped by the 1971 movie of the same name. The trio was honored as Martin (#7) and Robert (#14) joined Perreault in ceremonies to retire the numbers of Buffalo's famed "French Connection" on Nov. 15, 1995. The fourth Sabre to have his number retired was Tim Horton (#2) on Jan. 5, 1996. The Sabres retired two more numbers during the 2005-06 season. Right winger Danny Gare (#18) was honored on Nov. 22, 2005, while Pat LaFontaine's #16 was hoisted to the rafters on March 3, 2006.

11 Gilbert PERREAULT CENTER: 1970-71 to 1986

Gilbert Perreault can best be described as the "Original Sabre." The NHL Hall of Famer was Buffalo's first-ever draft choice and set the standard for all future Sabres to be measured by. Perreault earned the Calder Trophy as the NHL's Rookie of the Year following his inaugural 1970-71 campaign. Even Perreault's uniform number bore the marks of an original Sabre, as it was #11 that came up on the wheel that gave Buffalo the first overall pick in the 1970 draft. Perreault's sportsmanship and outstanding play also helped him capture the Lady Byng Trophy in 1973. One of Perreault's six NHL All-Star games was the 1978 edition in Buffalo when he scored the game-winning goal 3:55 into overtime. He also served as the Sabres' team captain from 1981-82 until his November 1986 retirement. Perreault is a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame, as well as both the Buffalo Sabres and Greater Buffalo Sports Halls of Fame. Perreault is still the team's all-time leader in career (regular season) games played, goals, assists, points and game-winning goals. There was only one number 11 in Buffalo Sabres history and, rightfully so, will never be another.

7 Rick MARTIN LEFT WING: 1970-71 to 1980-1981

Buffalo Sabre fans saw Rick Martin in almost 750 regular season and playoff games between 1971 and 1981. Number 7's career with the Sabres was highlighted by a Stanley Cup Finals appearance in 1974-75. That spring, Martin finished with 52 goals, one of which was the 1,000th in team history. The year prior, on the final night of the 1973-74 campaign, he recorded a hat trick at "The Aud" against St. Louis to become the first player in Sabres' history to record 50 or more goals in one season. Martin even gave the hometown fans a reason to cheer in a game at "The Aud" in which he wasn't even wearing a Sabres' uniform. On Jan. 24, 1978, he scored the tying goal in the 31st NHL All-Star Game with just 1:39 left in regulation time to force overtime. That was just one of seven of the League's showcase games he would appear in during his career. He still holds two single-season Sabres records and is tied for another. In addition, Martin remains in the top three in seven of Buffalo's (regular season) career leaders categories.

14 Rene ROBERT RIGHT WING: 1971-72 to 1978-1979

With the warm spring air mixing with "The Aud" ice, Rene Robert skated out of the mist and scored the famous "Fog Goal" by beating Flyers goalie Bernie Parent in overtime of game three of the 1975 Stanley Cup Finals. The historic goal might not have taken place if not for the Sabres' persistence in acquiring Robert. His road to Buffalo started with the Sabres claiming him from Toronto, only to lose the winger to Pittsburgh in the Intra-League draft on June 8, 1971. The Sabres were then able to acquire the final component of "The French Connection" in a trade with the Penguins on March 4, 1972. Robert finished the 1974-75 regular season with 100 points, marking the first time in club annals that a player reached the century mark in points in one season. That season, Robert was voted by his teammates as Buffalo's most valuable player. He later recorded another Sabres milestone by scoring the 2,000th goal in club history on Dec. 22, 1977. Robert still ranks as Buffalo's fifth all-time assist leader with 330 in his career with the Sabres. Coincidentally, Robert had also once worn number 7 in the blue and gold. He played in both the 1973 and 1975 NHL All-Star games.

2 Tim HORTON DEFENSE: 1972-73 to 1973-1974

Tim Horton skated in the Sabres' blue, white and gold for only two seasons, but the solid defenseman certainly made his mark on the team. Horton came to Buffalo in the Intra-League draft in June 1972 from Pittsburgh. Following that campaign, proof that he had made an impression on his fourth NHL club (also played for Toronto, N.Y. Rangers and Pittsburgh) came when he was named the recipient of the Memorial Award as the team's most valuable player as voted by his teammates. Today, in honor of the late defenseman, Horton's name is on the Buffalo award presented annually to the player whose performance is far superior to the public recognition he has received (known as the Unsung Hero Award before 1975). Horton saw action in 1,446 NHL regular season games plus 126 more in the postseason. Included in his playing days were eight out of nine complete 70-game seasons played between 1958-59 and 1966-67. Horton was a member of four Stanley Cup winning teams with Toronto and appeared in seven NHL All-Star games. Horton became a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1977 and is also a member of the Buffalo Sabres Hall of Fame.

16 Pat LaFONTAINE CENTER: 1991-92 to 1996-97

Pat LaFontaine enjoyed an illustrious 15-year career before retiring from the NHL in 1998 as the second highest-scoring American-born player with 468 goals and 1,013 points. He was born in St. Louis, but grew up in the suburbs of Detroit, and is still considered one of the game's best playmakers, fastest skaters, and most humble of superstars. A member of the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto, LaFontaine began his career in 1983-84 with the New York Islanders. He had a career year for Buffalo in 1992-93 when he set Sabres records for points (148) and assists (95) in a season. After being sidelined by a serious knee injury for most of the 1993-94 season, he returned as team captain in 1994-95 and was awarded the Bill Masterton Trophy for perseverance and dedication to hockey. LaFontaine was with the Sabres from 1991-1997, finishing with 385 points (158+227) in 268 games. He completed the "Empire State Hat Trick" by playing for all three NHL organizations within New York State when he was traded to the Rangers in 1997. He remained one of the Rangers' leading scorers until injuries forced him to prematurely retire on August 11, 1998.

18 Danny GARE RIGHT WING: 1974-75 to 1981-1982

Danny Gare played his first game for the Sabres on October 10, 1974 against Boston, and scored just 18 seconds into his first NHL shift. He finished his rookie season with 62 points (31+31) and contributed 13 points (7+6) in the Sabres' run to the 1975 Stanley Cup Finals. Gare followed up his strong rookie campaign with his first of two fifty-goal seasons in 1975-76, when he netted 50 goals and 23 assists in 79 games, and chipped in two game-winning goals in the playoffs. That season, Gare recorded three of his 10 career hat tricks as a Sabre. In 1979-80, he scored a career-high 56 goals, including a club-record 11 game-winners. Rick Martin is the only other Sabre to have two fifty-goal seasons. With 267 goals as a Sabre, Gare holds the record for goals by a Sabres right wing. He finished his Sabres career with 500 points. Gare's career as a Sabre came to an end on Dec. 2, 1981 when he was traded to the Detroit Red Wings. He spent his final NHL season in Edmonton in 1986-87. The native of Nelson, B.C. finished his career with 685 points (354+331), and was elected into the Sabres Hall of Fame in 1994.

HOCKEY HALL OF FAME

Twelve people with connections to the Buffalo Sabres are members of the Hockey Hall of Fame. Sabres' co-founder Seymour H. Knox, III, along with former Sabre coaches Scotty Bowman, George "Punch" Imlach and Marcel Pronovost have all been honored with induction into the Hall of Fame. Joining the previous mentioned are former Sabre players Tim Horton, Gilbert Perreault, Dale Hawerchuk, Clark Gillies, Grant Fuhr and Pat LaFontaine. Long-time team broadcaster Ted Darling was inducted in November 1994 upon receiving the Foster Hewitt Memorial Award for excellence in broadcasting.

Portland PIRATES Established 1977

The city of Portland has hosted the sport of professional hockey for over 30 years, dating back to the Maine Mariners inaugural season in 1977. Only five other teams (Hershey, Rochester, Providence, Springfield and Cleveland) have had an American Hockey League franchise in their city longer than Portland. The Portland Pirates franchise was founded in 1993, one year after the Mariners relocated to Providence, to keep the tradition of hockey alive and well in the city. The team replaced the Baltimore Skipjacks as affiliate of the Washington Capitals of the National Hockey League when the Skipjacks relocated to Portland.

The Pirates franchise got off to the best start possible, winning the Calder Cup in its inaugural season under the direction of head coach Barry Trotz. The next season the Pirates compiled 104 points, but were upset in the first round of the playoffs. During the 1995-96 season, the team reached the Calder Cup Finals for the second time in franchise history, losing to Rochester in seven games. The Pirates made the playoffs in three out of the next four seasons, missing them in 1998-99, but couldn't go as far as they had in the previous years. Despite another 100-point season in 1999-2000, the Pirates were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs.

Change came to Portland when a new ownership group, led by Lyman Bullard and Brian Petrovek, bought the team in 2000. The team continued its up and down pattern of success on the ice, but its loyal fanbase kept growing steadily in the Portland area. In 2003, the Pirates hosted the 2003 Dodge AHL All-Star Classic, the first in Portland and one of the most successful in league history. The game was played in front of a capacity crowd of 6,499 at the Cumberland County Civic Center. In 2009-10 the Pirates became only the fourth AHL franchise to play host two All-Star Classics when the Time Warner Cable AHL All-Star Classic was held January 18th and 19th at the Cumberland County Civic Center.

In the spring of 2005, the Pirates began a new era by signing an agreement to serve as the AHL affiliate for the Anaheim Ducks. The 2005-06 season began with an entirely new coaching staff as former Hartford Whaler Kevin Dineen was announced as the Pirates head coach. The new coaching regime led the Pirates to a franchise record of 114 points during the regular season, helped by Corey Perry's team record 17-game point streak. The Pirates finished the regular season as the Atlantic Division Champions for the first time in team history and also captured the Eastern Conference Regular Season Championship, but lost in overtime in Game 7 of the Eastern Conference Finals.

After losing key players to their Stanley Cup-winning affiliate, the Pirates missed the playoffs in 2006-07, but would bounce back stronger in 2007-08. The team appeared to be on pace to win a second Calder Cup, but were dealt a devastating blow when Wilkes-Barre/Scranton scored the game-winning goal with under a minute left in Game 7 of the Eastern Conference Finals.

Another chapter of Pirates history began on June 10, 2008 when the Buffalo Sabres were announced as the team's new NHL affiliate. Buffalo became the third affiliate in Pirates history.

In the first year of the affiliation, the team posted a 39-31-3-7 mark, made the playoffs for the 12th time in franchise history. The season also included a new franchise attendance record as 11,144 watched the Pirates take on the Albany River Rats at HSBC Arena in Buffalo, NY on February 10, 2009.

The season ended on a high note as Nathan Gerbe was selected as the Dudley (Red) Garrett Memorial Award winner as the AHL's outstanding rookie and, along with Tim Kennedy, was named to the AHL's All-Rookie Team.

The second season under the Sabres affiliation was even more successful than the first as the Pirates posted a 45-24-7-4 record and finished second in the Atlantic Division with 101 points. The campaign included a franchise-record 11-game winning streak and a new standard for consecutive games with a point in the standings, going 13 games (12-0-0-1) without a regulation loss. The promising campaign ended abruptly as the Pirates were swept in the opening round of the post season by the Manchester Monarchs.

For the second straight season a member of the Pirates was awarded the Dudley (Red) Garrett Memorial Award winner as the AHL's outstanding rookie as Tyler Ennis captured the award marking the first time since the mid-70's that one team has featured back-to-back Rookie-of-the-Year winners.

Kevin DINEEN

2005 Portland Pirates Head Coach

Kevin Dineen returns to the Pirates a sixth season as head coach during which he has compiled a record of 219-131-23-27 record for a .610 winning percentage, the best in franchise history. As Portland's head coach, Dineen has led the Pirates to two Eastern Conference Finals, coming within one win of advancing to the Calder Cup Finals each time.
Last season was Dineen's second season head coach of Buffalo's primary player development affiliate in the American Hockey League (AHL). He led the team to a second place finish in the Atlantic Division with a 45-24-7-4 record (his third 45-plus win season and second 100-plus point season as a Head Coach). The Pirates were defeated by the Manchester Monarchs in the opening round of the post season.

Prior to joining the Sabres organization, Dineen served as head coach of the Pirates for three seasons under the team's affiliation with the Anaheim Ducks. Dineen's best record was in 20005-06 when the team compiled a 53-19-5 record, Dineen was named the winner of the Louis A.R. Pieri Memorial Award as the AHL's outstanding coach, as voted by members of the media in each of the league's 27 cities, an award won by his father Bill in both 1985 and 1986.

Dineen was selected 56th overall by the Hartford Whalers in the 1982 NHL Entry Draft and spent 18 years in the NHL as a player from 1984-85 to 2002-2003. He registered 355 goals and 405 assists for 760 points to go along with 2,229 penalty minutes in 1,188 games with Columbus, Ottawa, Carolina/Hartford and Philadelphia. At the time of his retirement, he was one of only eight NHL players to record more than 300 goals and 2,000 penalty minutes in an NHL career.

The Quebec City, Quebec, native appeared in two NHL All-Star Games as a member of the Hartford Whalers (1988 and 1989). He was also named the 1990-91 NHL Man of the Year and was a three-time finalist for the Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy (1995, 2001 and 2002), given to the player who best exemplifies the qualities of perseverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey. Dineen also represented Canada on many occasions, including the 1984 Olympics, the 1987 Canada Cup and three World Championship Tournaments (1985, 1989 and 1993).

After retiring as a player with the Columbus Blue Jackets on Nov. 5, 2002, Dineen spent two seasons working in the Columbus hockey operations department, assisting General Manager Doug MacLean in player development.

Prior to turning pro, Dineen played two seasons at the University of Denver, collecting 26 goals and 23 assists for 49 points, with 178 penalty minutes, in 62 games.

Kevin and his wife, Annie, are the parents of two daughters (Hannah and Emma) and two sons (William and Declan).

Information RADIO & TELEVISION

All the action of Sabres' hockey can be heard on WGR Sports Radio 550 AM. Calling the action will be the voice of the Sabres, the venerable Rick Jeanneret. The Sabres will simulcast on radio each game televised on MSG.

All 81 of the team's televised regular season games will be broadcast in High Definition. MSG will be the home to 72 broadcasts this season and will be available in HD in the Buffalo/Rochester/Syracuse markets. Buffalo will also appear eight times on Versus, and once on NBC as part of the network's regional Hockey Day in America coverage on February 20 versus Washington.

This is the fourth year of the 10-year extension to telecast Sabres games, in which MSG will own the exclusive local rights to telecast the team's games. The deal runs through the 2016-17 season. MSG Networks, an industry leader in production and technology, is the nation's longest-running regional sports network. The first regional sports network to produce games in HDTV and winner of 95 New York Emmy Awards, MSG Networks is part of Madison Square Garden L.P. In addition to being home of the Sabres, MSG Network's award-winning programming line-up also boasts the New York Knicks, New York Rangers, New York Islanders, New Jersey Devils, New York Liberty and over 400 live college football and basketball games.

Once again this season, The Lexus Postgame Show hosted by Kevin Sylvester, featuring highlights and exclusive interviews can be seen following every MSG Network. The Lexus Shootout can be seen following every Sabres home telecast on MSG. Originating from Studio 200 at HSBC Arena, host Kevin Sylvester will be joined by Rob Ray and Mike Robitaille for complete post-game analysis and player interviews. The first intermission of each MSG telecast is sponsored by Verizon, and the second is sponsored by Northtown Automotive. Buffalo Sabres hockey on MSG is produced by Joe Pinter and directed by Matt Gould.

WGR's coverage will include a post-game show hosted by Brian Koziol featuring a complete game recap, player interviews and scores from around the league. Paul Hamilton will provide live updates from Sabres games as he returns to serve as WGR's beat reporter for the Buffalo Sabres.

RICK JEANNERET

Currently the longest-tenured broadcaster in hockey, the 2010-11 season marks Rick Jeanneret's 39th year with the Buffalo Sabres. He started with the team prior to the 1971-72 season, serving as the club's radio voice and held that post until 1995. Jeanneret then became the television play-by-play announcer, beginning with the 1995-96 campaign. He broadcast his first game during the 1971 preseason for the Cincinnati Swords (the Sabres' minor league team at the time). Jeanneret earned his start in 1963 while attending a Niagara Falls Flyers (Junior A) game in which he filled in for the regular announcer who had taken ill. He went on to become the color analyst for one season before moving to the play-by-play position in 1965. A native of St. Catharines, Ont., Jeanneret currently resides in Niagara Falls, Ontario, with his wife, Sandra. Rick has two sons, Mark and Chris. Mark is the play-by-play voice of Buffalo's AHL affiliate in Portland.

HARRY NEALE

A resident of East Amherst, N.Y., Neale joined the Sabres broadcast team for the 2007-08 season. He is well known for his work on Hockey Night in Canada which he joined in 1986 following eight years as an NHL coach and general manager. Neale also spent the past 21 seasons working as an analyst on regional coverage of Toronto Maple Leafs games. Before his broadcast career Neale was a former NHL head coach and general manager, Neale worked with the Vancouver Canucks from 1978-82 (head coach and GM), and with the Detroit Red Wings from 1985-86 (head coach). Neale began his career as a coach of the NCAA's Ohio State Buckeyes hockey team in 1966, and also served as coach of the New England whalers and Minnesota Fighting Saints of the World Hockey Association, and the Ontatio Hockey Associations's Toronto Marlboros.

Buffalo SABRES Established 1970

The NHL officially came to Buffalo on Dec. 2, 1969, when the league awarded Seymour and Northrup Knox the franchise that would soon be named "Sabres." The brothers wasted little time in hiring George "Punch" Imlach, formerly of the Toronto Maple Leafs, as the team's first Head Coach and General Manager. In June 1970, the Sabres were awarded the first pick in the NHL Entry Draft, and Imlach selected highly-touted center Gilbert Perreault from the Montreal Jr. Canadiens. Perreault lived up to the advance billing scoring 38 goals his rookie season en route to winning the Calder Trophy as the NHL's Rookie of the Year.

Another Junior Canadien, left winger Rick Martin, joined Perreault on the team's front line as the Sabres' top pick in 1971. That dominating duo turned into a trio when Rene Robert was acquired from the Pittsburgh Penguins near the end of the 1971-72 season. The line of Martin-Perreault-Robert would be dubbed "The French Connection" and would become one of the 1970's most dominating scoring lines.

By 1974-75, the young team was maturing and finished the season with a 49-16-15 record - still the best-ever season numbers in franchise history. Buffalo defeated Chicago in the first round of the playoffs and followed that with a second-round victory over Montreal to earn its first-ever berth in the Stanley Cup Finals vs. Philadelphia. While the Flyers defeated the Sabres in six games, the loss did not blemish the accomplishment of a team which had only been in the league for five years.

One of the most memorable moments in the franchise's first decade occurred Jan. 4, 1976, when the Sabres played the powerful Soviet Wings in an exhibition game at The Aud. With Cold War tensions still running high, the game had an intensity level far beyond the average regular-season game. Buffalo put on a dominating performance, defeating the Wings 12-6 in what ranked at the time as the worst-ever loss by a Soviet team in international competition.

The Sabres had an opportunity to hire one of the game's all-time coaching greats, Scotty Bowman, and did so in 1979. In his first season as head coach, Bowman led the Sabres to the Wales Conference Finals before they lost 4-2 to the eventual Stanley Cup Champion New York Islanders. Bowman finished with an impressive 210-134-60 mark.

Bowman spent the next few seasons revamping the Sabres' lineup, adding players such as Mike Ramsey, Phil Housley, Mike Foligno, Dave Andreychuk and Tom Barrasso. Those players formed the core of successful teams, and helped continue the tradition of winning hockey.

Through the good times and the bad times, there was always Perreault. Robert and Martin had both been traded by the early 1980s, but the original Sabre remained and continued to flourish. On March 9, 1986, Perreault and an Aud full of fans celebrated together as the franchise's favorite son scored his 500th career goal, making him the 12th player in history (at the time) to reach that milestone. Four years later, in 1990, Perreault was immortalized with induction into Hockey's Hall of Fame. This would be an omen of better things to come for the franchise.

Five-time Stanley Cup Champion John Muckler was chosen in 1991 to be the team's Director of Hockey Operations and soon assumed the title of head coach. He was instrumental in acquiring Pat LaFontaine from the Islanders in October 1991. LaFontaine teamed with Russian Alexander Mogilny to form a dynamic duo that combined to score 129 goals in 1992-93, including a franchise-record 76 goals by Mogilny. Buffalo capped that season by sweeping the Bruins in the first round of the playoffs to post its first playoff series win in 10 years.

That playoff excitement was just a precursor to Game Six of the 1994 Eastern Conference Quarterfinals vs. the New Jersey Devils. Buffalo won that game 1-0 in four overtimes on a goal by Dave Hannan. Dominik Hasek posted an incredible 70 saves in the victory, playing the entire 125:43 without allowing a goal. Following that season, Hasek would win the first of two consecutive Vezina Trophies as the NHL's top goaltender. But that would only set the stage for the 1996-97 season.

Before it even started, the 1996-97 campaign was already one of the most memorable in team history. On a sad note, the season would represent the first without founder Seymour H. Knox, III, who passed away in the spring of 1996. It would also represent the first time in the team's history that it would have new uniforms (red and black replaced blue and gold) as well as a new state-of-the-art arena (HSBC Arena replaced Memorial Auditorium).

The Sabres shocked many of the so-called experts by winning the Northeast Division; the team's first-such title since winning the Adams Division championship in 1981. Buffalo's performance seemed a fitting tribute to the memory of Seymour Knox.

The end of the season also brought many notable achievements off the ice. The Sabres were the stars of the NHL's postseason awards banquet. Hasek won the Hart Trophy as league MVP, the first time a goalie had achieved such a feat since 1962. For good measure, Hasek also took home his third Vezina in four years, an equally stunning feat. Michael Peca, a 23-year-old center in just his second full season, joined Craig Ramsay as the only Sabres to win the Selke Trophy, symbolic of the league's best defensive forward. Ted Nolan won the Jack Adams Award as the Coach of the Year.

Lindy Ruff was named the Sabres' head coach at the start of the next season, and led Buffalo to the Eastern Conference Finals. The Sabres eventually fell to the Capitals in six games, but their performance marked the team's best playoff finish since 1980. Hasek once again shone brightly, taking home his fourth Vezina Trophy and becoming the first goaltender ever to win two consecutive Hart Trophies. Earlier in the year, Hasek had also been instrumental in leading the underdog Czech Republic to a Gold Medal at the Winter Olympic Games in Nagano, Japan.

The year ended on a sad note when team co-founder Northrup Knox passed away in July 1998. The Knox brothers' persistence in acquiring a franchise and their determination to keep it in Buffalo will forever resonate with hockey fans in Western New York. Shortly before his death, Knox orchestrated the sale of the team to John, Tim, Michael, and James Rigas of Adelphia Cable Communications.

Buffalo returned to the ECF the following year, this time facing its geographical rival, the Toronto Maple Leafs. In what would be known as the cross-border series, the Sabres defeated Toronto 4-1 to reach the Stanley Cup Finals for just the second time in team history. The Dallas Stars would be the Sabres' opponent and the two teams proved to be evenly matched in the lowest-scoring Stanley Cup in history. With Buffalo trailing 3 games to 2 in Game Six, Brett Hull slid the puck past Hasek in the third overtime to clinch the Cup for the Stars. Replays would later show that Hull's skate was in the crease, but officials let the goal stand to the dismay of Sabres fans.

Buffalo celebrated its 30th anniversary season in the NHL in 1999-2000 with the impressive rookie debuts of Martin Biron and Maxim Afinogenov. The development of Biron and Afinogenov combined with the late-season additions of veterans Doug Gilmour and Chris Gratton enabled the Sabres to continue their winning ways as they began their fourth decade of play in the NHL.

The 2000-01 campaign will be remembered as one of the most successful seasons in recent memory as the Sabres won the fourth-most games in team history (46). Once again, Miroslav Satan led the team in goals scored and total points in the regular season and had a stellar postseason with three goals, a team-high 10 assists and 13 total points. The season also turned out to be a breakout year for several members who had career offensive years. J.P. Dumont proved to be a valuable addition, producing career offensive numbers in his first year with the team. Alexei Zhitnik returned to the offensive production of earlier in his career and Rhett Warrener and Jay McKee worked as the team's top defensive tandem. As a whole, the Sabres were the league's top defense, allowing the fewest goals and boasting the best penalty-killing unit. Andreychuk proved that you can go home, returning to the Sabres to score 20 goals, eight on the power play, and add some veteran leadership to a young, yet maturing, hockey club. Another former Sabre returned as Donald Audette, who was acquired at the trade deadline along with Steve Heinze, added another element to the Sabres as the team headed into the postseason. And as he was in past seasons, Hasek proved why he was one of the best goalies in the NHL, posting a 34-24-4 record with 2.11 goals against and 11 shutouts en route to his sixth Vezina Trophy.
Despite not making the playoffs in 2001-02, the Sabres were one of the better teams in the NHL over the second half of the 2002-03 season. Strong offensive years from Satan, Stu Barnes and Tim Connolly as well as the emergence of Taylor Pyatt late in the year were just a few of the bright spots of the season. Plus, the emergence of Biron as one of the league's top goaltenders gave fans much to look forward to.

Ruff became the team's all-time winningest head coach with a 5-2 win over Philadelphia on Feb. 18, 2003. Ales Kotalik broke onto the scene by scoring 21 goals, the second most by a rookie in 2002-03 while Satan once again led the Sabres in goals, assists and points. B. Thomas Golisano became the Sabres' owner in March and brought a new enthusiasm level to the franchise.

The 2003-04 Sabres once again were one of the League's top teams in the second half of the season. Daniel Briere, who came to the club near the end of the 2002-03 season, continued his outstanding play and led the Sabres in assists and points. Dumont and Chris Drury were threats to score while Satan recorded a team-best 29 goals, including four against Atlanta on Feb. 16, 2004. Satan and Maxim Afinogenov each had a hat trick against Washington, Dec. 31, 2003. Rookies Derek Roy, Milan Bartovic and Andrew Peters each had long stints with the Sabres, who played in front of 12 sold-out home crowds.

Following a lockout that forced the league to cancel the entire 2004-2005 season, NHL hockey returned in 2005-06 featuring new rules intended to create a more exciting style of play. Despite low expectations set by many hockey observers, the Sabres turned in a historic season. Led by Lindy Ruff, who would win the Adams Award as Coach of the Year, Buffalo set a franchise record for wins in a season with 52. Rookie goaltender Ryan Miller won 30 games on the season, despite missing 18 games with a broken thumb early in the season. The Sabres featured a tremendously balanced scoring attack, with six 20-goal scorers and 12 players with at least 30 points. Afinogenov led the team with 73 points (22+51), while Chris Drury led all goal-scorers with 30. Seven different players reached career highs in either goals, assists, or points. Perhaps the most impressive offensive player on the season was Briere, who, despite being plagued by injuries for much of the season, recorded 58 points (25+33) in 48 games.

It was also a breakout year for several rookies. In addition to the strong freshman campaign turned in by Miller, Thomas Vanek burst on the scene with 25 goals and 23 assists. Jason Pominville, who appeared in 57 games after being called up from Rochester, showed a terrific scoring touch, collecting 18 goals, while center Paul Gaustad recorded 24 points and added an element of toughness to the lineup.

Buffalo made the playoffs for the first time since the 2000-01 season, and began by knocking off the Philadelphia Flyers in six games. That set up what turned out to be a wild series with conference-rival Ottawa. With Buffalo leading three games to one, Pominville became the first player in NHL history to score a series-clinching, short-handed, overtime goal when he eluded two Ottawa defenders and slipped the puck past goalie Ray Emery. That set up a showdown with the Carolina Hurricanes in the Eastern Conference Finals, where the Sabres eventually lost in seven games.

The 2006-07 season was unlike any other in Sabres history, as they captured the Presidents' Trophy as the team with the best regular season record. The team started out by tying an NHL record with 10 straight wins, before losing in a shootout to Atlanta on Oct. 28. The Sabres went on to post 53 wins, the most in franchise history – one more than in 2005-06. The season was also a success at the turnstiles as they sold out HSBC Arena for all 41 regular season games and nine playoff games. This has not occurred in Buffalo since the days of the legendary Aud in 1979-80.

A contributing factor to the team's success was having four players with more than 30 goals. Daniel Briere led the team with 95 points (32+63), while Thomas Vanek was a close second with 84 points, including a team-high 43 goals. Chris Drury finished with 69 points (43+41) and Jason Pominville capped a terrific sophomore season with 34 goals. Vanek also finished first in the league with a plus-minus rating of +47. Adding to the Sabres depth on offense, the team had 10 players with over 30 points. Rookie Drew Stafford posted strong numbers after being called up from Rochester in mid-season. Stafford played in 41 games and finished with 13 goals and 14 assists. Goaltender Ryan Miller also set a club record with 40 victories after being voted in as a started for the NHL All-Star game.

Buffalo made it to the playoffs for a second consecutive season. The Sabres eliminated the N.Y. Islanders in five games, and then defeated the NY Rangers 4-2 in the Semifinals. Buffalo advanced to the Conference Finals for the second consecutive year (and fourth time since 1997), before losing in five games to Ottawa.

The 2007-08 season was a drastic change for the Sabres as they failed to make the playoffs after finishing atop the NHL in the regular season standings in 2006-07. The Sabres did see two young stars emerge as Derek Roy and Jason Pominville led the team with 81 and 80 points, respectively. Roy eclipsed the 30-goal mark for the first time in his career as he finished the year with 32 goals. Pominville coupled 27 goals with 53 assists to set a new career high in points. Thomas Vanek continued to show his offensive prowess as he tallied 36 goals and 28 assists on the season. Vanek finished the year with a career high four hat tricks, three of which were natural or uninterrupted. Ryan Miller continued to set team records as he played in an unprecedented 76 games in the regular season, compiling a record of 36-27-10.

Buffalo continued their impressive string of sell-outs as they saw HSBC Arena full for 39 of their 41 home games. The Sabres made history yet again as they hosted the 2008 AMP Winter Classic at Ralph Wilson Stadium in Orchard Park, NY. The Sabres faced the Pittsburgh Penguins in front of 71,217 fans as snow lightly fell on New Years Day. The game was the first outdoor game to be played in the United States and set the record for attendance at an NHL game. Buffalo would lose the historic game 2-1 in a shootout.

The 2008-09 season started with high expectations after the Sabres failed to make the post-season a year before. The team got off to a hot start posting a 6-2-2 record in the month of October. However injuries to leading goal-scorer Thomas Vanek and starting goaltender Ryan Miller late in the year were too much to overcome. Despite a resilient effort in the final two months, Buffalo failed to make the playoffs for a second consecutive season.

Thomas Vanek completed his second career 40 goal season, while leading the league in power-play goals (20). Vanek was also named to his first NHL All-Star game. Derek Roy had another impressive season; he led the team with 70 points (28+42) and was sixth in the league with nine game-winning-goals. Tim Connolly returned to play in 48 games leading the Sabres in plus/minus with +12, and finished the year with 47 points (18+29). Jason Pominville led the team in assists for a second consecutive year with 46. He finished the season, playing in all 82 regular season games for the third consecutive year. Pominville currently holds the Sabres current consecutive games played streak with 251. Rookie defenseman Chris Butler had a solid campaign he was second on the team in plus/minus behind Connolly with +11.

The 2009-2010 campaign saw the emergence of one future star and the continuing evolution of another. Sabres defenseman Tyler Myers, the teams' first round selection, (13th overall) in the 2008 Entry Draft burst onto the NHL stage with an impressive rookie season. Myers led all NHL rookies in on-ice time (23:44) and assists (37) to help earn the Calder Trophy as the league's top first year player. Ryan Miller also continued to raise his status as one of the league's top netminders. Miller was in the top five all season in every goaltending category, including goals-against average (2.22) and save percentage (.929). Miller's strong season was capped off by winning the Vezina Trophy. Miller also set the franchise record for wins with 41. Overall, the team cracked the 100-point plateau for the ninth time in franchise history and won their sixth division title.

Buffalo Sabres UNIFORM 1970-2010

Equipped with one of the National Hockey League's two new teams, the Knox Brothers sought a name for the club that would accompany the Vancouver Canucks into the 1970-71 season. A contest brought about the name "Sabres," which just needed a logo to become the trademark of hockey on the Niagara Frontier. The Sabres crest would remain identical over the first 26 years. The first major change to the team's look came in 1996-97, which accompanied a new home for the Buffalo Sabres (the team moved from Memorial Auditorium into its new address of HSBC Arena).

The crest in which would adorn the blue, white and gold jerseys of Buffalo Sabres players from October 1970 until April 1996 reflected the team's name. Along with the Buffalo appeared two crossed sabres "renowned as a clean, sharp, decisive and penetrating weapon on offense, as well as a strong parrying weapon on defense," according to team Public Relations Director Chuck Burr's 1970 press release.

A few minor changes were seen in the Buffalo sweaters over the first 26 years, mostly simple accessory changes. After adding players' last names to the back of the sweaters a few years earlier, 1978-79 marked the first season the team's jerseys did not have drawstrings at the neckline and the debut of the team's crest on the shoulders. While the next season was Buffalo's 10th anniversary campaign, a patch honoring that winter's Olympic games in Lake Placid, N.Y., was the notable change on the uniforms. The 1980 Winter Olympics is where the now legendary "Miracle on Ice" would take place, and where the Sabres held their 1980 training camp. It was probably fitting then that 10 years later, a Buffalo Sabres' 20th anniversary logo patch was embroidered on the front right shoulder of the players' uniforms for 1989-90. Two years later, the Sabres joined the other NHL teams in wearing a commemorative patch for the league's 75th anniversary, and fans even had the opportunity to see it on both the home and road jerseys as Buffalo joined 15 other teams in the season-long celebration. For the second half of that season, the Sabres wore their road jerseys at home and donned the home jerseys for away games, to complement the "original six" teams who wore "throwback jerseys." A Stanley Cup centennial patch appeared on the 1992-93 uniforms. Buffalo would again recognize a significant anniversary with a special 25th anniversary logo, which was designed for the team's 1994-95 campaign. Players wore the fifth patch in seven years on the team's sweaters in 1995-96 (bearing jersey number one), remembering former NHL goalie Roger Crozier, who played six of his 14 seasons in the league in Buffalo.

The 1996-97 season began a new era in Buffalo Sabres hockey with a new home, new colors and a new logo. The Sabres' new colors would be black, white, red, gray and silver, featuring a white buffalo head as the new team logo. A secondary logo of a "B" with the familiar sabre piercing through it would also be featured on the shoulder of the new jerseys. In their first season in the new uniforms, the Sabres honored the memory of co-founder Seymour H. Knox III with a circular patch bearing the initials SHK III.

On Nov. 22, 2000, the Sabres unveiled the team's third jersey against the Philadelphia Flyers. The third jersey was a tribute to the original sweater, while incorporating colors and elements from the current design, unveiled in 1996. The organization chose from over 50 different concepts and developed a blend of the 1970s blue and gold crest, featuring the traditional circle and crossed Sabres logo, adorned on a red-based jersey, trimmed in the team's black and silver of the 1990s. The word "BUFFALO" appeared on the lower trim to signify the team's proud attachment to its hometown. The third jersey also featured the current Sabres white buffalo-head logo appearing on the shoulders. The Sabres wore their original blue and yellow colors with the former logo and design for the season finale, April 4, 2003, against New Jersey.

The new Sabres new uniform scheme, unveiled on September 16, 2006, takes its inspiration from the original Sabres uniform (1971-96) and second uniform (1996-2005). The design was a collaborative effort between the Sabres and Reebok International. The new "blue and gold" colors have been altered to a deeper navy blue and richer gold that have a greater visual impact both in person and on television broadcasts. Silver accents and a revised "B-Sabre" logo were carried over from the team's second uniform. Unique in the NHL, the new uniforms have player numbers on the front of the jersey and have been designed utilizing the most advanced material available from Reebok. Buffalo also debuted a new alternate uniform that was the original blue uniform from 1970 with the player number on the front like on the newly designed uniforms. The alternate jersey was only worn for the 2006-07 season.

The Sabres introduced a new third jersey in 2008-09 that incorporates design elements from the original uniforms while linking elements from the current jerseys. The team's original road uniform (1971-96) has been updated to incorporate the darker navy blue and rich gold featured in the current uniforms along with silver accents on the stripes to give dimension to the original design. The player numbers appear on the front of the uniform and a neck tie will be incorporated similar to what was worn by the team the first seven years Buffalo was in the league. The original crossed Sabres logo also features silver accents to give a beveled look to the team's original logo. The jersey is designed to incorporate the design elements of the Reebok EDGE uniform system.

During the 2010-2011 season, the Sabres will wear the previous third jersey as the team's new home uniform. Also new this season is a white, vintage road jersey that incorporates the accent elements of the updated home jersey season to celebrate the organization's 40th anniversary. The team also unveiled an all new 40th anniversary uniform on September 18, 2010. This classically-designed uniform is a tribute to not only the history of Buffalo hockey, but early NHL jersey designs of the past. The 40th anniversary jersey will now serve as the team's alternate jersey, and will be worn 12 times this season at HSBC Arena.

Information MEDIA

Requests for information should be directed to the Sabres' Public Relations Department, Buffalo Sabres, HSBC Arena, One Seymour H. Knox, III Plaza, Buffalo, NY 14203. The main office phone number is (716) 855-4100. Fax transmissions can be sent to (716) 855-4122.

Season credentials are available only to those media members who cover the team on a regular basis. Those who need media credentials for an individual game should contact Kevin Snow via email (Kevin.snow@sabres.com), fax or phone (716/855-4509) by 5 p.m. the day before a game, and by 5 p.m. on Friday before a Sunday game. Requests for individual game seating should be provided on your media outlet's letterhead (via fax). Furthermore, freelance photographers will be admitted on an assignment-only basis, which must come from the photo editor. Press box seats are filled on a space-available basis.

The media entrance to HSBC Arena is located at the plaza area on the east (Illinois Street) side of the building, aligned with the middle of the parking ramp.

All requests for pre-game live shots should be coordinated through a member of the Public Relations Department to assure location and transmission.

The Sabres' press lounge opens two hours before game time, and also serves as the media work room. It can be reached by turning right upon entering the building at the media entrance (mentioned above).

Press credentials can be picked up before 4:30 p.m. at the arena's security office. From 4:30 p.m. on, the passes will be at the media entrance described above (please note that pick up times will be adjusted for afternoon games).

To reach the press box, return toward (and just past) the security office/media entrance and ride the freight elevator to the top/press level (indicated with a "P" in the elevator).

Credentials should be displayed at all times for admission to the press box, press lounge/work room, and dressing room areas. YOUR COOPERATION IS APPRECIATED IN MAINTAINING A WORKING ATMOSPHERE IN THE LOCKER ROOM(S). ABSOLUTELY NO AUTOGRAPH REQUESTS. VIOLATORS WILL BE ASKED TO LEAVE.

Please note that smoking is prohibited not only in both the press lounge/work room and the press box, but also in the whole arena (under N.Y. State law).

There are electrical outlets and phone jacks at all seats in the press box, but phone lines are not active unless arrangements are made by calling Mike Queeno at (716) 855-4485. Please keep in mind that there are a minimum number of pool phones in the press box for use by visiting media as well as two pay phones. Wireless internet access is also available.

Practices that cannot be held at HSBC Arena, will take place at the Pepsi Center. Practices are open to the media, and reporters should contact Chris Bandura to verify times (716) 855-4515.

Directions to HSBC ARENA

HSBC Arena is on Buffalo's waterfront at the end of Washington Street and is bordered by Main and Illinois Streets and South Park Avenue. There are several parking lots in that area. For directions see below or, for more detailed information, contact the Sabres at (716) 855-4100.

From N.Y. State Thruway (90): Take Interstate 90 to downtown Buffalo to 190 North (exit 53).
Recommended: Take exit 5 (Hamburg St.), turning right onto Hamburg Street. Turn right onto Perry Street (first light) or South Park Ave. (second light). HSBC Arena is two blocks ahead with parking past Michigan Ave.

Alternate: From 190 South, take exit 5 (Louisiana Street). Stay to the right on exit ramp and exit onto Louisiana Street. Make a left onto Louisiana St. and take it to the first light. Turn right onto Perry Street. HSBC Arena is ahead with parking available on either side of Perry Street.

From Canada and North: Take the 190 South heading toward downtown Buffalo. Exit at Niagara Street and head toward downtown. Turn right on South Elmwood Avenue (before City Hall) and continue until you cross Church Street, at that point Elmwood becomes Lower Terrace (Adam's Mark Hotel on your right). Travel on Lower Terrace and turn right on Washington. The HSBC is at the end of Washington.

Directions to PRACTICE FACILITY
